JFK Proposes 'Top To Bottom' Income Tax Cut

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Kennedy Friday night proposed a "top to bottom" cut in personal and corporate income taxes next year without waiting to bring the mounting federal budget into balance.

Kennedy, in a speech before the Economic Club of New York, said a basic tax reduction, rather than a "quickie" temporary cut, was needed to relieve a heavy drag on national growth.

The Chief Executive did not specify the extent of the recommended reduction. This will be done in his State of the Union and budget messages to the Congress next month.

He promised that a tax reduction bill going to Congress next month would be coupled with a new federal budget that would keep spending on domestic programs at current levels.

He said, however, that the time had come to reduce taxes in such a manner that consumer spending would be stimulated and management encouraged to invest more capital.

"I am confident that the enactment of the right bill next year will in due course increase our Gross National Product by several times the amount of taxes actually cut," the President said.

PREDICTS GAINS

With the "right" kind of tax bill, the President predicted improved profit margins, better incentive for investment, the creation of new jobs and new products for long term economic growth.

He spoke in obvious knowledge that his tax program will run into heavy sledding within his own party. Chairman Harry F. Byrd of the Senate Finance Committee and Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee both have questioned the wisdom of cutting taxes without an appreciable reduction in federal expenditures. Byrd is a particular foe of tax reduction at the cost of a larger deficit.

Kennedy said he was as concerned as most Americans about the federal deficit, but he thought the needed increase in national economic growth was the paramount consideration at present.

"We shall, therefore, neither postpone our tax cut plans nor cut into essential national security programs," he said.

"This administration is determined to protect America's security and survival—and we also are determined to step up its economic growth. I think we can afford to do both."

Louisiana Plan To Redistrict Is Agreed Upon

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Louisiana legislative study committee on reapportionment agreed Friday on a proposal to change Senate and House seating. The proposal will be made public in January.

Rep. Warren J. Simon of Vermilion Parish, chairman of the seven-man group which has worked months on various proposals, said members wanted to delay making public the suggestions until they spell out all the reasons involved.

The committee, Simon said, has agreed on a Senate redistricting plan within the present system of 35 Senate seats.

It also agreed on what he called a slight increase in the 105-member House, which would call for approval at the polls if the legislature adopts it, he said.

An attorney general's opinion will be sought whether the proposed Senate changes would require a constitutional amendment. The House changes will, Simon said.

Plane Crashes

Apartment Area

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — An unidentified airplane crashed into a densely populated apartment area Friday night, touching off a block-square blaze.

The crash scene was a mile from Lockheed Air Terminal. The number of casualties, if any, was not immediately determined.

The craft, appearing to be a two-engine plane, crashed with tremendous force, touching off a series of explosions.

Within minutes the plane was nearly a skeleton as flames roared through it.

Lethal Cold Relaxes Grip Over Nation

Deaths Rise Past 200 As Warmup Begins In North

By United Press International
A bitter nine-day blast of crippling snows and death-dealing cold Friday began to relax its grip on the frozen eastern half of the nation.

But the warmup was no spring-like thaw, and the death toll from one of the worst pre-winter onslaughts in history soared far above the 200 mark.

Cold records were set again in Florida as the semi-tropical peninsula state sought to assess the loss from a disastrous freeze and brace for frost again Saturday in all hard-hit farming areas.

AWAIT RESCUE

Snow-bogged cities and towns in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and New York struggled to break the shackles of mammoth snows. Thousands of snowbound rural families awaited rescue from isolation.

The snow emergency in southwestern Michigan improved so rapidly that authorities cancelled plans to call out 500 National Guardsmen and planned to cut from 160 to 55 the number making mercy runs to families strapped for food and fuel.

National Guard tanks rumbled over drifted highways in northern Ohio, where Geauga County on the shore of Lake Erie was slugged by a fresh 10-inch snowfall atop 40 inches already on the ground.

The weather's toll of lives rose to 216. There were 35 dead in Ohio, 32 in Michigan, 15 in Georgia, 14 in Pennsylvania, 10 in Alabama, 10 in New England, 9 each in New York and Indiana, 8 each in Mississippi, Kentucky, West Virginia and Louisiana, 7 each in Illinois, Tennessee and South Carolina, 6 each in Missouri and Texas, 5 in Florida, 4 in North Carolina, 2 in Kansas and 1 each in Wisconsin, North Dakota and Minnesota.

Juror Pettit

Stricken Friday

Ouachita Parish Police Jury President L. B. Pettit was resting under oxygen Friday night at St. Francis Hospital after suffering a heart attack early in the day.

A member of the family said doctors indicated it might be several days before the extent and severity of the attack would be known.

Pettit apparently was stricken around 5 a.m. Evidently he had left bed and dressed himself when he began to experience pains.

He was taken to the hospital before 6 a.m.

The family said the doctors had indicated the 70-year-old jury president and businessman was "holding his own."

'Stargazer' Flight Reported Success

HOLLOMAN AIR FORCE BASE, N.M. (AP) — A balloon flight to the brink of outer space to study the stars was termed a success Friday by the two men who made the historic ride.

Air Force Capt. Joseph W. Kittinger Jr., 34, pilot, and William C. White, 40, civilian astronomer, reported, however there were no surprises.

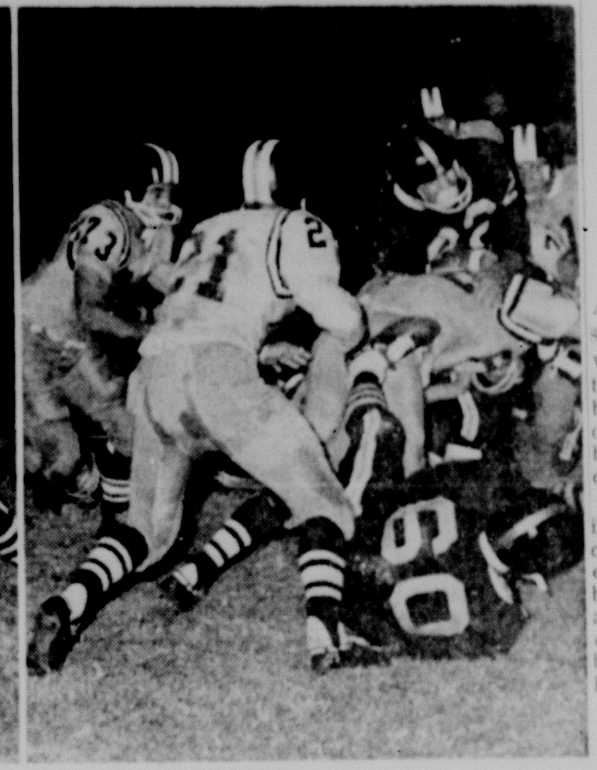

The men were launched from a Holloman Air Force Base runway Thursday morning to study the stars from above the earth's disturbing atmosphere. They rode in a 4,800-pound gondola attached to the 200-foot-diameter plastic balloon.

One of the purposes of the Project Stargazer flight was to determine at what altitude stars stop twinkling.

The stars appear to stop twinkling at 30,000 to 35,000 feet,

Arrival

West Monroe police patrolman Jim Burks and his wife, Marsha, have done it again — "for the second and last time say's Jim.

Their stork turned up around noon Friday at Glenwood Hospital, leaving behind a 7½-pound parcel for them, named Cindy Elaine. The Burks have a two year old son, Jay.

Only hitch in the whole deal was the doctors fault — he missed his prediction. He forecast a boy, chalking up his sixth error in a long career of guessing, according to him.

Yule Music

Mrs. Peggy Caskey, choir and chorus director at Lee Junior High School, has asked Jes' Ramblin' to invite all Monroe and West Monroe out to the school at 7 p.m. Monday for a real sample of the Christmas spirit.

Nearly 400 of the youngsters, including members of the band, orchestra and choir, will be staging their annual Christmas concert in the gymnasium.

Red Chinese Begin India Withdrawal

NEW DELHI (UPI) — India announced Friday the Chinese communists have begun a massive withdrawal in the Northeast Frontier Agency (NEFA) from points they captured as far as 85 road miles below the disputed border.

There was no word of withdrawal in the Ladakh area of Kashmir 1,500 miles to the west.

A spokesman said Indian civil scouts will be sent into the areas to confirm the withdrawal, but he would not reveal if India will send in troops to recapture the territory. Peking in announcing its cease-fire Nov. 21 warned India not to send in troops.

EASES THREAT

The government said it had received reports from civil scouts that all three Chinese spearheads had been withdrawn, easing the time being a grave threat to India's rich Assam state. Two of the spearheads reached the edge of the Assam plains.

The principal threat was at the extreme west end of the disputed McMahon Line near the borders of India, Bhutan and Tibet. India said the Chinese had withdrawn from Bomdi La, and Dirang Dzong 10 miles to the north. Dirang Dzong was headquarters of the 4th Indian Division. The penetration here was about 85 road miles.

The other major Chinese penetration was at the extreme eastern end of the McMahon Line, near the borders of China, India and Burma. The Chinese there had moved in some 85 miles to the Brahmaputra River town of Hayliang. India said the Chinese have pulled back north of Walong which is 16 miles south of the McMahon Line.

This is the plea of a youngster whose mother will not be able to work after Christmas and whose father is working only part time.

This plea and numerous others are arriving at the News - Star - World daily requesting help. Donations should be sent to Goodfellows in care of the newspaper.

PLEASE HELP

"Please help me with my six children," one mother writes. "I have no help with them. I work four days a week and have no husband to help me with them. So please give my children something for Christmas."

Another letter — "I am writing to say we are real old and all we get goes for doctor and medicine bills. If you can send us anything we sure will appreciate it. My husband tries to work but he is 75 years old. I am 69."

All money sent to Goodfellows goes directly for food, clothing and toys. No cash donations are ever made to recipients of Goodfellows aid. And all work is voluntary — there is no overhead.

One person writes for a family she knows. "I am writing you to see if it's possible to bring this family food, clothes and toys. Their family has had so much trouble this year. They lost all their furniture and have been sick and unable to work. They have three children."

The burglar-alarm system sounded, bringing two police patrol cars speeding to the bank within minutes.

The two policemen in the first car were shot before they could even get out of their cruiser. The other car also was riddled with bullets, fired apparently from automatic rifles.

Some of this type of rifle, standard issue for the Canadian army, were stolen several months ago from military stores in Quebec.

Space Chief Hails Feat As Best Yet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's Mariner 2 spacecraft made a historic rendezvous with Venus Friday, took an electronic look and sent back to earth signals that may determine whether life can exist beneath the planet's shroud of clouds.

Establishing a big new record in space communications, the craft obeyed a command from earth to turn on its scanners and began sending back information about the clouds and the surface of earth's nearest planetary neighbor from an unbelievable 35 million miles away.

ON SCHEDULE

Mariner passed its closest point of rendezvous with the planet on schedule at 3:01 p.m. EST. It was just over 21,000 miles from Venus at that point.

Space Agency officials said the spacecraft's observation system was working perfectly and data about the planet pouring in. An "educated guess" about what the information means may be possible by this weekend, they said, but it will be days or weeks before substantial parts of the findings are made public.

All indications are that the project is an "unqualified success," the officials said.

James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), said the feat in deep space may add more to man's knowledge of Venus "than has been gained in all the thousands of years of recorded history."

Two Policemen Shot To Death In Bank Holdup

MONTREAL (AP) — Four rifle-carrying robbers—one dressed as Santa Claus—shot two policemen to death and wounded two others Friday after being surprised during a bank holdup in suburban St. Laurent.

Unconfirmed reports said the bandits fled with about $10,000. Shooting as they ran, three of the gunmen made their escape in a white sedan that raced wildly across a field, churning up snow, mud and grass. The fourth reportedly slipped away to a nearby hotel and telephoned for a taxi to make good his escape.

The dead policemen were identified as Claude Marneau, 40, and Denis Barbeau, 31.

None of the bandits was believed hit in the gun fight at the Cote de Liesse branch of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce.

Three of them — including the one dressed as Santa Claus — entered the bank about 11 a.m. One waited outside as a lookout. "Santa" headed straight for the vault. A second robber rifled the tills, the third held off employees at gunpoint. All wore masks.

The burglar-alarm system sounded, bringing two police patrol cars speeding to the bank within minutes.

The two policemen in the first car were shot before they could even get out of their cruiser. The other car also was riddled with bullets, fired apparently from automatic rifles.

Some of this type of rifle, standard issue for the Canadian army, were stolen several months ago from military stores in Quebec.

W. C. Slakter Rites Slated Here Sunday

Walter Carl Slakter, 39, well-known Twin City businessman, was found dead early Friday in his home at 5402 Bon Aire Dr., Monroe.

He was found by a daughter who had returned home from school because of illness. Reports placed time of death at around 9 a.m. He was apparently hanged in the bathroom.

Mrs. Slakter had left the house for work about 7:30 a.m.

Mr. Slakter was owner and operator of Home Office Supply Co. on Trenton Street in West Monroe. He had lived here for the past 12 years.

Funeral services are scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday in St. Paul's Methodist Church with Dr. Ben Oliphant officiating. Interment will follow in Memorial Park Cemetery under direction of Kilpatrick's Funeral Home of West Monroe.

The body will lie in state at the funeral home.

Mr. Slakter had been in ill health in recent months, curtailing his activities. He was a member of the Sales Executives Club, the Monroe and West Monroe Chambers of Commerce, the Monroe Rotary Club and Monroe Little Theatre. As well, he was a West Monroe Mason and a charter member of the West Monroe Jaycees.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Betty Slakter, two daughters, Mrs. Jim Wroten and Miss Debbie Slakter, and two sons, Dan and Alan Slakter, all of Monroe; his mother, Mrs. Elsie Slakter, and a brother, Ben Slakter, both of Los Angeles, Calif.; and one grandchild.

Pallbearers will be Artie Ponder, Buddy Tolson, Bob Powell, L. Slader Brown, Billy Edmondson, John Vaughn, Eloy Fominaya and Alan Roberson.

Hoffa Admits Loans From Fleet Firm

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — James R. Hoffa testified Friday he borrowed from Test Fleet dividends, but denied ever receiving anything of value from the company accused of setting up the trucking firm for him as a payoff for labor peace.

The stocky Teamsters Union president, nattily attired in a dark gray business suit, testified for nearly two hours at his $1-million conspiracy trial in U.S. District Court.

Leaning forward with his hands folded, Hoffa told the jury in a clear, unhurried voice he was mistaken when he told Senate racketeers committee in 1957 he owned a truck firm the government contends was the forerunner of Test Fleet.

The nation's most controversial labor official still was being questioned by his attorney when Judge William E. Miller adjourned court for the weekend. Hoffa will resume his testimony when the trial goes into its ninth—and possibly final—week Monday.

Hoffa, 49, is accused of conspiring to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting "a thing of value" from Commercial Carriers, Inc.—CCI, a Detroit-based automobile-hauling firm which had labor trouble at its Flint, Mich., terminal in December 1948.

The Taft-Hartley Act forbids a union official from taking anything of value from a company whose employees he represents.

The government contends CCI set up Test Fleet Corp. here shortly after the Flint strike was settled and gave half the stock in the truck-leasing firm to Mrs. Hoffa under her maiden name. This was an elaborate disguise to conceal a payoff to Hoffa, the prosecution said.

Hoffa testified he had nothing to do with the formation or operation of Test Fleet, nor did he receive any reward or favors for settling the Flint strike. He said the Flint walkout was unlawful and he got the strikers back on the job under the best possible conditions.

Brazil Police Uncover Plot

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Police said Friday they have uncovered a Castroite Cuban plot to organize a Socialist revolution in Brazil.

Cecil Borer, chief of the social-political division of Red do Janeiro's police force, charged that Cubans trained by Russians and Red Chinese had slipped into the country to train guerrilla bands.

Borer made the charge in announcing the interception of a station wagon loaded with arms, ammunition and Communist propaganda.

Three persons were arrested. One carried a letter from a Soviet Embassy official to Francisco Juliao, leader of the pro-Communist Peasant League, police said.

Juliao, a federal deputy-elect, has been organizing peasant groups in Brazil's northwest. Police said the station wagon, halted Thursday outside Rio de Janeiro, was en route to Dianopolis, where soldiers last month uncovered a large weapons cache they said the Peasant League planned to use in an invasion of surrounding farmlands.

State Board Meets Today At Bastrop

The State Board of Education, concluding its committee sessions here Friday, meets at Bastrop today to honor three retiring members, including Col. George T. Madison of Bastrop.

Board committees cleared the way Friday for a general meeting at 10 a.m. today at the International House in Bastrop with a luncheon following in honor of the retiring members.

OTHERS RETIRING

Besides Madison, retiring members being honored are Mrs. Eleanor Meade, New Orleans, and Judge Isom J. Guillory, Eunice.

While the luncheon will highlight the Bastrop program, action taken by the committees will be submitted to the board for approval at the 10 a.m. meeting.

Board members toured the campus of Northeast State College following the committee meetings. Friday, then were guests of Dr. George T. Walker, college president, at his home last night.

But a resolution adopted by the building committee topped Friday's committee work calling on the State Division of Administration to include funds for major repairs at colleges in the college budgets.

Board chairman William J. Dodd explained that major repair funds were eliminated in the budgets, that college officials now must seek funds for major repairs from the State Bond and Building Commission.

The resolution adopted by the committee came on a request by the University of Southwest-ern for $535,000 for major repairs.

Dodd said a taxpayers' suit filed by Dr. Boyd Woodard of Lake Charles would permit the board to administer the spending of its appropriations.

He pointed out that education funds now are being administered by the 17-man legislative budget committee and Commissioner of Administration James S. Reilly.

The building committee, headed by chairman Robert Curry of Shreveport, also referred a request to the State Bond and Building Commission from the

State Future Is Optimistic, Staggs Thinks

Louisiana has an "optimistic future," but has "four basic needs" that should be considered, Ed Staggs, information director of Public Affairs Research Council, said here Friday.

"The outlook can be optimistic for Louisiana," Staggs said, pointing out that the state has progressed with improvements — Civil Service, voting machines, legislative auditor and permanent registration.

But he told the Monroe Optimist Club that "four basic needs" should be considered for the next few years in state government:

1. Imbalance between local and state government.
2. Unusual power for the governor.
3. Lack of sound management procedure in state government.
4. Improved education.

NO TAXES

Staggs said some parishes in Louisiana do not require "some property owners" to pay any property taxes, although Ouachita is not one of the parishes.

"For instance, the imbalance between local and state government is brought out by the tax collections," Staggs said. "Out of every $4 collected in taxes, the federal government gets $3 and the local government gets $1."

But he pointed out that because of the tax assessment structure on property local government shuffles its responsibility to the state government.

In turn he said too much burden is placed on business and industry.

"We can work to get better assessment policies over the state," Staggs stated.

He explained also that other states better observe the checks and balances system of government, pointing out that the governor in Louisiana is a "powerful man."

A Louisiana governor can make about 1,000 state appointments and 3,000 local appointments, plus having "unusual patronage opportunities."

But Staggs said too much depends on the governor in Louisiana, explaining that all state agencies report directly to the governor. The people think the governor can solve all problems, he emphasized.

"We got where we are because there has not been much interest on the state level and by the people," Staggs said.

In addition, with a growing population, Staggs predicted that by 1970 the college enrollment in Louisiana should undergo a 100 per cent increase.

He cited "improved education" as a basic need, stating:

"Industry will move into areas where education opportunities are great."

But Staggs said the state has made progress in education, pointing out that 92 per cent of Louisiana school teachers are college graduates.

He added, however, that the rate of illiteracy in the state is high.

Scientists Ask Air Force To Shoot Balloons

PALESTINE, Tex. (UPI) — Scientists asked the Air Force Friday to shoot down a pair of runaway tandem research balloons. They gave up all hope of recovery when the huge balloons drifted eastward across the Gulf of Mexico, carrying a 6,000 pound dummy payload.

Officials at the balloon launch center near Palestine said the Continental Air Command (CONAD) at Colorado Springs, Colo., was asked to send jets to shoot down the balloons south of Mobile, Ala.

"The purpose behind the decision is to clear the airways," a spokesman said.

The two balloons, which together are more than 600 feet long, were launched Wednesday, carrying a dummy payload in preparation for a February launch that will send 6,000 pounds of scientific equipment aloft for an atmospheric study of the planet Mars.

Despite trouble with the experimental balloons, scientists said they plan to use the same arrangement for the February flight.

Milder Weather Sweeps State

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milder weather swept over Louisiana Friday, bringing to an end a cold spell that gave most of the state three straight nights of hard freeze.

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecast low overnight temperature readings ranging from the upper 20s in some sections to the lower 40s in others.

Daytime readings climbed well above the freezing mark in most sections Friday, and the warming trend was expected to continue Saturday.

The low reading Thursday night was 18 degrees at Monroe.

PROTESTS IN VAIN

Schools Holding To Yule Tree Ban

SHARON, Mass. (UPI) — A ban on Christmas trees at three schools remained Friday following a three-day attempt by parents to reverse the decision involving separation of state and church.

"The only change is that we are much more tired than we were yesterday," said Sharon School Superintendent Herman H. Richardson.

Principals at Sharon High School, Heights Elementary School and East Elementary School ordered teachers not to permit Christmas trees in classrooms this year. Richardson backed their stand.

East Elementary also banned the singing of carols. The community's fourth school will have a tree.

The Heights and East elementary schools are located in sections of this southeastern Massachusetts town that have had sharp population rises since World War II.

A member of the Sharon School Committee, Stanley Dingman, said the committee issued a policy statement Dec. 4 due to the population factors. The statement strongly reaffirmed the principle of separation of church and state.

"Realizing that in some of our schools a majority of the pupils are Jewish, it was quite natural at this time we consider a statement of policy," Dingman said.

"But the background is the growing realization that the Su-

Colonel Madison Retires

Colonel George T. Madison of Bastrop completes 32 years of service on the State Board of Education today—and retires from its membership with the meeting of the board at his home city. The session in Bastrop today is in tribute to Colonel Madison, with a luncheon in his honor also scheduled. Friends from many parts of the state will attend.

Colonel Madison is retiring from the board voluntarily and because of health. He did not offer himself as a candidate for re-election this year from the Fifth Congressional District. Few men in Louisiana—none that we can recall at the moment—have served the cause of public education in this state so long and so faithfully. No one could be a leader in the educational field in a period of three decades marked by the hectic disputes over schools that have come in this state throughout the period of 1938 to the present without finding himself in disagreement with some others equally as sincere in their determination to bring better “learning” for Louisiana’s youth. It has been that way with Colonel Madison. Many may have disagreed with his courses at times, but none questioned his fine purposes.

Colonel Madison stepped forth as a leader in the 1930s when probably no state in the nation had a public education system — from its universities to kindergarten — so destructively overridden as Louisiana’s with political dictation and the resulting general deterioration that always comes when public officials seek to run schools for their own political benefit instead of for the educational benefit of the children.

What has happened purely statistically in this state since 1930 is amazing—and splendid. No one would credit Colonel Madison with being chiefly responsible for the metamorphosis, but he definitely had a strong part in it and he was witness to all of it. A brief survey of the educational changes in Louisiana in that period is, indeed, tribute to Colonel Madison as well as to many others who had a part.

George Mason’s Work

Sometimes significant names in American history are brought only to the attention of students boning up for a final exam. Such a name is that of George Mason, a man who is often eclipsed by better known personalities of our Revolutionary War period. Yet he is the person most responsible for our Constitution’s Bill of Rights.

Thomas Jefferson regarded him as “the wisest man of his generation.”

James Madison spoke of him as “the greatest in debate.”

Patrick Henry called him “the greatest statesman I have ever known.”

Yet thousands of Americans know nothing about George Mason.

This retiring patriot drafted one of the truly significant documents in United States history, the Virginia Declaration of Rights, adopted unanimously by Virginia’s legislators at the state capitol in Williamsburg on June 12, 1776. The including of similar statements in the Constitution is noted in today’s Bill of Rights Day.

The Virginia Declaration of Rights was the most significant document adopted in Williamsburg and a touchstone for the conscience of free men for all time. Its 16 articles breathe the air of the Magna Carta and the English Bill of Rights.

The character of the Virginia declaration is set forth in its opening words:

“All men are by nature equally free and independent.” Then the document continues to encompass the principles of personal rights without which independence would be a mockery: freedom of religion and of the press, and freedom from unjust trial and punishment. Article XV sounds a warning right down to the present time:

“No free government can be pre-

For example:

In the year 1930-31 there were approximately 437,000 children registered in Louisiana schools. In 1960 the enrollment had grown to approximately 709,000 children. The amount of the state appropriation for the public schools increased from slightly under $6,000,000 to over $185,000,000 per year. The average length of the school session increased from 174 days for white schools and 111 days for Negro schools to 180 days for both systems.

The total number of schools has been decreased from 2,924 to 1,402 in that period as a result of consolidation and improvements in the system. The number of one-teacher-schools has been cut from 311 white and 1031 Negro to two white and 11 Negro. The total number of teachers and principals has increased from approximately 12,400 to approximately 27,700. The number of teachers with four years or more of college training is now 94 per cent as against 28 per cent in 1930. The average annual salary of the teacher has increased from approximately $1,100 for white and approximately $465 for Negro to an amount slightly in excess of $5,500 per year for all teachers. A large transportation system has been developed as well as the school lunch program and other benefits.

In 1930 there were 8,113 white high school graduates and 591 Negro high school graduates. In 1960 there were 19,254 white high school graduates and 8,289 Negro high school graduates.

In 1930 there were 4 white and 1 Negro institutions of higher education with a total enrollment of 3,719 students and a total value of physical plants of approximately $3,500,000. In 1960 there were seven white and three Negro institutions of higher education, many of them authorized to grant the Master’s degree, with a total of 28,168 students and an investment exceeding $98,000,000 in physical plants.

This is only part of the statistical story Colonel Madison has helped write. He can be proud, indeed, of his part; his friends are proud of him.

served but by frequent recurrence to fundamental principles.”

All of the state papers that George Washington took to Williamsburg and the House of Burgesses prior to the Revolution which are now on file in the Library of Congress are in George Mason’s handwriting. He and Washington were friends at the time of the Virginia Declaration.

This was the sequence of events. George Mason was a delegate from his home state of Virginia to the Constitutional Convention but he refused to sign the Constitution for three reasons: it contained no Bill of Rights originally; no prohibition against slavery; no guarantee which would preserve the rights of both the people and the states from assaults of federal power.

With several events of the past decade in mind, we realize the foresight of this Virginian. From his state, Mason protested the ratification of the federal Constitution and after a bitter tirade in the Virginia Assembly, James Madison promised that a Bill of Rights would be added to the document.

At a subsequent meeting of the Congress of the United States in New York, the federal Bill of Rights became the first 10 amendments to the Constitution. This is the occasion which has been set aside for commemoration on December 15 at Bill of Rights Day.

Here is an outline of American statesmanship which has covered the world to a far greater extent than the communistic theories of Karl Marx. According to Amos J. Peaselee, secretary general to the International Bar Association:

“The vast majority of the ninety or more present day nations have incorporated in their written constitutions specific declarations of

Stevenson Furor Grows

New Forces And Resentments, Daily Unleashed In Washington, May Dent Administration’s Prestige

Before the last stone is cast, the furor over Ambassador Adlai Stevenson’s role in the White House discussions of the Cuban crisis may make a bad dent in Administration prestige. For the continuing sensation of the Stewart Alsop - Charles Bartlett Saturday Evening Post article has daily unleashed new forces and resentments here in Washington.

1. The press, which was mildly annoyed by an Administration double standard that imposed censorship on some but opened the doors to two favored correspondents, is now up in arms at accusations of treachery made against the Alsop - Bartlett duo.

2. The Alsop - Bartlett article was a clearcut attempt to “manage” news. That there should now be an outcry against the invasion of the National Security Council’s “privacy” is considered a piece of hypocrisy. Those in high government circles who spoke to the newspapermen involved knew that the Saturday Evening Post article would, in effect, have a White House imprimatur. One of the easily traceable quotations comes from an official known for his extreme care in talking to the press.

3. The timing was bad. The article appeared almost simultaneously with well-substantiated reports that Adlai Stevenson was on the way out. It has been no secret that the President and Mr. Stevenson do not get along — and that the U. N. ambassadorship was offered to the two-time Democratic loser only after strong pressure from Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. The death of Mrs. Roosevelt left Mr. Stevenson badly exposed.

4. In his handling of the episode, Ambassador Stevenson turned his anger on the press rather than on those who made the article possible. To charge the Saturday Evening Post with “irresponsibility” can only lead to a counterblast. The Messrs. Alsop and Bartlett will not disclose their sources if they want to remain in business. But by declaring war on them, Mr. Stevenson invites massive retaliation.

5. Efforts of a small in-group of television correspondents (who scratch whenever Mr. Kennedy itches) to take a moral tone of disapproval — whatever their motives — have fed the impression that a cover-up is what the White House most wants.

6. The controversy has caused many in Washington to reread the offending article with far more than normal care. They have found in it information which was more or less missed in the first quick scanning — namely that the White House ignored detailed intelligence reports and felt it could not act without U-2 photographs of the missile bases. This has raised two questions: What will the Administration do in cases where photography is not possible? And what’s the point of spending billions on intelligence operations if reliable reports are not seriously read by the President?

7. If the controversy continues, enterprising reporters will begin to explore the role of Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy in foreign policy deliberations. Mr. Kennedy has already run into some trouble for minimizing the internal Communist threat. During the Cuban crisis, however, he took the “soft” Stevenson line against military action. As the man closest to the President, is the Attorney General responsible for the tendency to rely on endless “negotiation” with the Soviet bloc?

These are some of the points that continue to echo in Washington, long after the publication of the Alsop - Bartlett article. Unless veiled threats of full-scale censorship (some of them Administration - inspired) cease, the controversy will grow more bitter before it dies down. To argue now that the National Security Council is sacrosanct and must not be the target of journalistic interest hardly impresses those who remember the Eisenhower era.

In the years 1953 through 1960, it was considered acceptable practice for a correspondent to report what went on at the NSC — and it was not at all unusual to quote from classified documents, even giving their title and number. To say, as Mr. Stevenson and others have done, that publicity will discourage free debate speaks very badly for the courage and integrity of those entrusted with the national security and the defense of the country. There must be secrecy about weapons, troop movements, and military actions before the fact. But to forbid the disclosure of policy discussions after they have been implemented is a reporter’s duty. That is, if we want a free press, not a suppress.

Today is Saturday, Nov. 24, the 328th day of 1962 with 37 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

On this day in history:
In 1864, French artist Henri De Toulouse-Lautrec was born.

In 1869, women from 21 states of the union met in Cleveland, Ohio to draw up plans for the organization of the American Woman Suffrage Association.

In 1944, superfortress bombers of the U.S. Air Force made their first raids on Tokyo, taking off from the American base at Saipan.

In 1961, the U.N. Security Council passed a resolution authorizing Secretary General U Thant to use force if necessary to arrest mercenaries and other foreign military and political advisers of the secessionist Katanga Province in the Congo.

Trade Bill Vital

Described As One Of Most Significant

Events Of Century

There is universal agreement that the most important piece of legislation passed by the 87th Congress was the trade bill. One of its supporters, Representative Hale Boggs, Louisiana, said:

“Passage of this legislation is the most significant event of this decade. It could be one of the most significant events of this century.”

The law, which went into effect on receiving President Kennedy’s signature two months ago (October 11) gave the President broad powers he had requested to slash tariffs up to 50 percent, and up to 100 percent on certain commodities. It passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 253 to 171 and by the Senate 78 to 8, which is just about as close to a bipartisan consensus as a legislative action ever gets.

There was also rather general agreement when in mid-November President Kennedy chose former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, a Republican, for the tough job of negotiating tariff cuts that he had made just about the best selection possible.

Herter, the No. 2 man in the Eisenhower Administration in its final years, is slowly setting up his organization. Congress placed in the post to which Herter was appointed, Ambassadorial rank, and President Kennedy in appointing Herter said “he will become, along with the Secretaries of State and Commerce, one of the top officials of the United States Government in shaping and achieving our international objectives in the commercial, trade and economic fields.”

The high rank given Herter was thought necessary since he must deal with the European Common Market, which has concentrated its tariff negotiating power in a high commission.

No informed person ever expected quick results from the trade adjustment law. It is increasingly evident negotiation is going to be difficult, and often painful. Congress in its passage buried a tradition (that of protectionism) which has dominated national politics during much of this century’s history.

And one of the things that the Herter agency must cope with is a rising degree of protectionism within the Common Market countries — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg. Especially is this true of agriculture. Each of the Common Market countries has a system of protection of agricultural income, with rigorous controls on imports and subsidization of exports.

In addition to minimum import prices on certain farm products there are also “variable levies.” It was these levies which Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, during his recent trip to Europe, called “unreasonably protectionist” and a threat to our traditional European markets, where we sell $300,000,000 or $400,000,000 worth of American farm products annually.

Take what, which is a major problem crop in the United States. Great Britain — not yet a Common Market member, but a prospective one — is the biggest importer of American wheat. West Germany the fourth biggest and Holland, the sixth biggest. The Common Market plan contemplates that its member countries will be self sufficient in wheat production and intends to enforce this self sufficiency by a system of flexible import levies which can be adjusted to nullify any competitive cost advantage offered by American wheat.

The agricultural tariffs of the Common Market countries are just one of the difficulties which will have to be surmounted if the impediments to freer trade among the nations of the western world are to be removed.

There are also many problems in industrial products, probably greatest in chemicals.

Perhaps an international conference, such as that suggested by President Kennedy and Prime Minister John Diefenbaker of Canada, will be held in the spring of 1963, to seek ways to cut down obstacles to freer trade.

If this nation is to maintain its role as leader of the western world, it must trade as never before. And a lot of seemingly insuperable trade barriers must be torn down.

SYLVIA PORTER

Not Good Enough

Expansion At Present Rate Won’t Cut

U.S. Unemployment

Assume our economy continues to move ahead in early 1963 the way it has been moving along in 1962 — and, mind you, in 1962 we have broken records on all sides.

This would mean that again we would smash records left and right. Our total output of goods and services would cross the $70 billion a year mark. Employment, incomes, profits would be at a new top. Spending by consumers or things and non-things would hit unparalleled peaks. So would spending by businessmen and by government.

Sounds good, doesn’t it? It would be good.

It still wouldn’t be good enough to slash our unemployment rate, which after 22 months of expansion sticks above 5½ per cent.

We wouldn’t be creating jobs on a sufficient scale to absorb the army of new workers entering the labor force in 1963 and reabsorb older workers whose jobs have been erased forever by the increasing efficiency of factories and offices.

It still wouldn’t be good enough to spur industrialists to hike sharply their spending for essential expansion and modernization of our obsolete plants.

The latest government surveys indicate this spending will come to $37.4 billion in 1962, up 9 per cent from 1961. That appears fine on the surface, but it exceeds by only a tiny margin the previous peak of $37 billion, set way back in 1957. The most optimistic projection for 1963, as of now, is for another 3 per cent rise. This 3 per cent should be quadrupled and then some in view of the fiercely competitive era in which we are now living. No one is forecasting this.

It still wouldn’t be good enough to create the profits and paychecks to balance our federal budget.

While the size of next year’s budget will be restrained, it’ll be the biggest ever anyway. Profits and paychecks would have to be in a much stronger uptrend than would be indicated by a moderate business advance to produce the taxes to cover next year’s spending.

It still wouldn’t be good enough to allow us to carry comfortably the enormous burdens we have taken on to defend the free world and help new, underdeveloped nations.

We are running a big deficit in our international accounts — balance of payments — because of these burdens and the year-after-year deficits are a constant threat to our dollar’s stability. Our foreign commitments well may become an intolerable load unless our rate of growth is accelerated.

We are still growing. The advance which began in February 1961 is slated for a second birthday in February 1963. Moreover, it’s obvious that since our successful showdown over Cuba in late October, there has been a marked improvement in psychology. Auto sales are an exceedingly bright spot. The stock market has rebounded. New orders received by manufacturers have advanced again.

But the hard fact remains. The advance is not at a pace sufficient to cut into our unemployment rate, spur large-scale modernization of plants, balance our international accounts and domestic budget.

It is against this background that support continues to spread through the administration, business, labor, finance, every sphere for significant across-the-board tax cuts in 1963 and 1964.

Will we get the reductions? A popular answer is that Congress will balk. Perhaps it will. Some of the most powerful men in Congress have stated their opposition to tax reductions unless we’re actually in a recession or until the budget is out of the red.

Yes, questions which no one seems to be asking but which to me lie at the heart of this matter are:

Isn’t Congress supposed to listen to the folks back home?

With the folks back home in remarkable agreement that tax cuts are needed now, is it logical to expect Congress to go into a vacuum and ignore not only the pleas of the administration but also of the voters?

Aren’t our lawmakers as concerned as other leaders about achieving a prosperous America, a strong dollar, a competitive industrial plant?

The way I would answer these questions is implicit in my asking them. Of course, I’m not counting on tax cuts until they are law. But as of Dec. 14, 1962, I’m certainly not counting them out either.

ALLIANCE POSSIBLE

French, British Leaders Huddle

PARIS (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan arrived Friday for two days of informal talks with French President Charles de Gaulle in the chummy surroundings of a hunting lodge outside Paris.

Out of the sessions could come the beginnings of a new French-British alliance.

The British leader is scheduled to meet De Gaulle first thing Saturday morning at the Chateau de Rambouillet for a hunt in the woods.

Macmillan has a lot on his mind, particularly Britain's trouble getting into the European Common Market and the fuss over the Skybolt missile with the United States. Both have had the effect of setting Britain adrift.

Nevertheless, the trip here is the beginning of Macmillan's personal mission to seek to retain a world role for his island nation.

After his meeting with De Gaulle, Macmillan will fly to Nassau in the Bahamas for talks with President Kennedy and later Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker of Canada.

As Macmillan flew in here, British informants spread word of what they called a big new De Gaulle scheme to sponsor a great new intercontinental free trade area covering most of the Western world.

British informants described it this way:

France would remain at the head of the Common Market, leading West Europe. Britain would retain her ties with her European and Commonwealth partners, fulfilling her old maritime role. The United States would participate by implementing the new trade expansion law.

Although British sources were talking about such a scheme, French official said they felt there was nothing to the reports.

In any case, Macmillan will be trying to find out if De Gaulle really wants Britain to assume a European role.

And De Gaulle will be out to probe Macmillan for clues as to whether the Skybolt missile issue will seriously affect the British-American alliance.

If Macmillan were to emerge from Rambouillet satisfied De Gaulle wants Britain in the Common Market, and if De Gaulle figures the London-Washington axis is ending, then there would be scope for a realignment of British-French policies, possibly starting with a joint nuclear defense program.

De Gaulle and Macmillan will, of course, range over other aspects of the East-West power struggle and of problems within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. They will consider the Cuban crisis and the implications of Red China's sallies across the Himalayas into India.

Masons Elect Dr. C. B. Folds

Dr. Calvin B. Folds has been elected worshipful master of the Robert W. Cretney Lodge No. 420 at Sterling, the Masons announced Friday.

Other officers to serve during 1963 are as follows:

Choice Plan For Cotton Is Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials of the National Farmers Union told a House agriculture subcommittee Friday they oppose including a choice program in any new cotton legislation next year.

Under a choice program the cotton farmer would have the option of planting within his acreage allotment at the specific support price or of exceeding the acreage allotment and taking a reduced support price.

The Farmers Union representatives, testifying before a cotton subcommittee headed by Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., also said they favor a one-price system for cotton to be accomplished by a domestic equalization fee provided through payment-in-kind certificates to the last handler.

Gathings has said new legislation should eliminate an existing disparity between the domestic and export prices for U.S. cotton and should prevent any significant cut in income of the cotton farmer.

In the Farmers Union group were Lewis J. Johnson, president of the Arkansas Farmers Union; Jay Naman, president of the Texas Farmers Union; A. J. Hall, president of the Virginia Farmers Union; and Reuben Johnson, director of the national organization's legislative services.

Naman said a choice program would not alleviate the problem of overproduction of cotton, would not appreciably decrease the cost of cotton to domestic mills, ultimately would result in increased storage costs to the government and that any benefit to producers who chose to plant larger acreages would be at the expense of producers who complied.

W. L. Smith, Buttonwillow, Calif., representing the Western Growers Association, advocated a choice program under which the cotton allotment would be set at 19 million acres for 1963 coupled with a support price of 30 cents a pound.

The 1962 national cotton acreage allotment was 18.1 million acres and the support price was 32.47 cents a pound. The 1963 allotment has been set at 16 million acres but the support price has not been announced.

Rudolph Miller, El Centro, Calif., cotton grower, also supported a payment-in-kind incentive plan with the payment to go to the last handler. He likewise advocated a choice plan involving an 18 million acre allotment and a 30 cent support price.

Judge Delays Betting Trial Start In N.O.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert W. Christenberry Friday postponed until Monday the start of trial for 10 men charged in connection with a nationwide horse race betting syndicate.

The judge said he wanted time to study the possibility of a separate trial for one of the 10 men, Sam DiPiazza of Arabi, who suffered a heart attack last week.

A federal grand jury indicted the 10 on charges of illegal use of long distance telephone lines in connection with the operation of a nationwide horse race betting syndicate.

The other nine defendants are Anthony P. Glorioso of New Orleans; Eugene A. Nolan of Baton Rouge; Peter J. Martino of Biloxi, Miss.; Robert and Benjamin Lassoff and Myron Decklebaum of Cincinnati; Alfred Reyn of New York; Gilbert Lee Buckley of Surfside, Fla.; and Alfred Mones of Miami Beach, Fla.

Three other persons pleaded guilty before the trial commenced. They will be sentenced after the trial. They are Louis P. Bagneris of Arabi; Harold E. Brouphy and Charles A. Perez, both of New Orleans.

OVER WILD JUNGLES

Plane Disappears With 50 On Board

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Brazilian accidents on successive days aboard a Brazilian airliner with 50 passengers and crew on board disappeared early Friday over the wild Amazon. The control tower at Manaus Friday over the wild Amazon said it lost contact with the piston-engine plane shortly after the 18th its destination, the river port of veteran Amazon area pilot, Capt. Dalvo da Costa, reported by radio. "Ready to land."

This was six minutes before the scheduled touchdown at 3 a.m. The weather at the time was good, but fog settled in later, hampering the search.

The plane was on the last leg of a 2,500-mile flight from Rio de Janeiro.

Nine Miners Die In Pit Mishaps

AACHEN, Germany (AP) — Nine coal miners died Friday and seven others were injured in two pit accidents in the industrial Ruhr.

It brought to 15 the number of miners killed in Ruhr mines within the last 36 hours.

A blast ripped through the 1,800-foot-deep Adolf coal mine at Merksteim, near Aachen, killing seven miners and injuring seven.

In the Langenbrunn mine near Essen, 55 miles from here, two miners were buried in the collapse of a gallery ceiling.

About 25 other miners working in the gallery where the Merksteim explosion occurred escaped.

AROUND SOVIET UNION

U.S. To Retain Ring Of Bases

GENEVA (AP) — The United States Defense Secretary Robert S. States declared Friday it will maintain the ring of military bases around the Soviet Union until Treaty Organization that NATO's disarmament has reached its final phase.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference the United States is treaty-bound to defend the Western world against possible Soviet attack and cannot cast away its nuclear deterrent power and foreign bases in the early stages of a disarmament treaty.

Dean made his declaration in a concise restatement of the American position on disarmament.

British Minister of State Joseph B. Godber said he welcomed the American statement was extremely useful.

Dean's speech coincided with

Dean described American bases as "an essential component of the present-day world military picture." He said the bases would be eliminated at the end of the proposed disarmament process, but that the Western powers will not permit themselves to be led into a "palpably one-sided move at the beginning of disarmament which favor the Soviet bloc and jeopardize free world security."

Dean referred to Soviet demands for elimination of nuclear delivery vehicles and foreign military bases at the beginning of disarmament.

The Soviet delegate, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, said Dean's statement was "a strange thing to hear in this conference. The Soviet Union will fight this approach."

Dean said the U.S. government is equally bound by its national interest and treaty commitments, and by its pledge to work toward general and complete disarmament.

Rescue workers reported recovering 38 bodies with search still under way.

A bus reported carrying 35 passengers and two drivers and three other vehicles—two trucks and an automobile—fell into the turbulent Prata River near Joao Pinheiro, about 400 miles northwest of Rio.

The number of persons riding in the trucks and car was not immediately determined.

Space Chief Hails Feat As Best Yet

corded history."

"The most significant and perhaps the most spectacular of our scientific efforts to date," Webb termed it.

He said all information gathered in the fly-by of Venus would be shared "with all men and all nations, to ensure maximum progress in science not only in the United States, but throughout the world."

In summing up his feelings about the flight, Webb quoted this remark by Sen. Robert Kerr, chairman of the Senate Space Committee: "I am convinced that the nation which leads in exploring and using space for peaceful purposes can best build, improve and inherit the earth."

Mariner was giving man, at second hand, his closest look ever at a neighboring planet.

It was the closest a spaceship ever came to another planet. Russia sent a probe past Venus some time ago, but it was wider from the mark and its radios were silent as it went by.

NASA ordered Mariner at 8:35 a.m. EST to turn on its scanners. Six and a half minutes later, scientists received word from the spacecraft that the order had been carried out. The exchange of messages covered 72 million miles, round-trip.

The radio command from the Goldstone, Calif., tracking station, was sent after Mariner failed twice to turn on the scanners automatically. These attempts came at 2:21 and 5:41 a.m. EST.

While this drama unfolded in deep space, the Space Agency sent into near-perfect earth orbit a new communications satellite called Relay. No immediate test of its relay capabilities was possible, however, because of a weakness in its batteries.

Mariner 2, sweeping past Venus on its 109th day in space, fixed a piercing, 42-minute gaze on the planet with its two electronic eyes.

One of the devices, an infrared radiometer, was assigned to determine how much water is in the planet's perpetual cloud cover. The other, a microwave radiometer, bored a beam through the clouds to measure temperature on Venus surface.

Radio checks from the earth have indicated a temperature on Venus of around 615 degrees Fahrenheit—much too hot for any known form of life. But this reading may be false because of large electron concentrations in the planet's atmosphere.

Already the accomplished Mariner has sent back to earth the greatest amount of information ever collected about magnetic fields, charged particles, cosmic dust and solar winds in interplanetary space.

Traffic Tops In District Court Friday

Fourth District Court activity was dominated by traffic violations Friday with six of the 14 misdemeanor cases handled by Judge Jesse S. Heard being for reckless driving.

Bond was fixed at $2500 in preliminary hearing of murder charges against Ozzell Bradley.

Four persons were found guilty of reckless driving. George D. Kampouris, 58, of 308 Cole Ave., Monroe was fined $50 and costs; Priscilla M. Nolan of 915 Mississippi St. Monroe, was fined $25 and costs; and John M. Clemens Jr., 22, of 410 Columbia Ave., Monroe, and Leslie C. Clarke of 2201 Fannie St. Monroe, were both fined $15 and costs.

Reckless driving cases against John L. Young, 60, Negro, of 400 Drew St., West Monroe, and Frank C. Powell, of 1002 N. 7th St., Monroe, were continued.

Five charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages were processed, with four persons being found guilty. Fines of $300 and costs were levied against Billy Joe Osburn, 25, of 1407 Tim St., West Monroe; Raymond L. Martin, 46, Negro, of route three, Ruston; and Jimmy V. Dykes, 23, of 708 S. 7th St., West Monroe.

David H. Easterling of route two, Bentonla, Miss., was found guilty of DWI and remanded to Jan. 7, 1963, for sentencing.

DWI charges against J. L. Gregory, 40, of route two, Columbia, were continued until Dec. 21.

Two persons were fined $25 and costs for disturbing the peace. Fines of $25 were also levied against two persons for no driver's license and one for failure to yield right of way.

One person pleaded not guilty to a charge of no driver's license and had Jan. 18, 1963 set as trial date. Charges of improper lights and criminal damage to property were set for Jan. 11, 1963.

Air Force Jet, 'Copter Crash In Polar Area

STEWART AIR FORCE BASE, N.Y. (AP)—An Air Force jet interceptor crashed in Greenland 700 miles north of the Arctic Circle Friday and a rescue helicopter disappeared an hour later on a mercy mission. In all, six men were missing in a bleak, darkened area of ice and snow.

The Air Force launched a vast search operation, employing the latest in aeronautical equipment, while at the same time using Eskimo dog teams in the hunt.

The Air Force declined to disclose the names of the missing airmen for the time being.

The F102 jet interceptor was attached to the 333rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron. It was on a routine flight out of Thule Air Force Base when it went down about 10:30 a.m. 25 miles southeast of the base. Only the pilot was aboard.

An H43 rescue helicopter with five men took to the air and last was heard from at 11:36 a.m. in the same area.

Air Force search aircraft were dispatched, despite 24-hour darkness that offered poor visibility for the searchers.

Five Eskimo dog teams also were dispatched to the area, which is on the polar ice cap.

X15 Is Piloted Through Risky Stability Test

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Air Force Maj. Robert White guided the X15 rocket plane Friday on its 75th flight, putting it through one of its riskiest stability tests yet.

With the craft's lower tail fin removed, he tried a flight plan that called for lifting the X15 nose 25 degrees above the horizontal as it plunged earthward.

It was one of a series of tests to determine if stability is improved without the lower, or ventral, tail fin. Maximum stability is needed as the plane re-enters the earth's thicker atmosphere from the thin air at the edge of space.

The previous high angle was 18 degrees without the ventral fin and 25 degrees with it.

This flight differed from previous ventral-off flights in that the dampers—devices that diminish undesirable variations from course—were on. For test purposes, they had been off on previous flights.

RULES COMMITTEE

Albert Is Hopeful Of Avoiding Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democratic Leader Carl Albert hopes a Democratic family fight over the House Rules Committee can be avoided next month.

It is the same family fight that came up at the start of the 87th Congress two years ago, when three new members were added to the powerful Rules Committee to make it easier to get New Frontier legislation through the committee and before the House.

The late Speaker Sam Rayburn won that fight for the administration by a scant five votes. Now the Rules Committee automatically reverts to 12 members unless Congress votes to keep it at 15 when it convenes Jan. 9.

Albert said in an interview Friday that the least the House Leadership and the administration can settle for is a 15-man Africa Rules Committee.

There is considerable pressure from the most liberal wing of the House Democrats to go even solid-fuel Minuteman. That was on further toward restricting the rocket's first test, a 4,600-mile Rules Committee's power to block trip on Feb. 1, 1961.

Legislation Measures suggested include a 21-day limit on the committee's blocking of a bill, and seven-day limit on okaying Senate-House conferences for bills passed by both houses.

But heading the other Democratic family faction in the House is Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., chairman of the Rules Committee and chief strategist for Southern Democrats often in alignment with the Republicans.

Smith has already made known that he wants the Rules Committee back at 12 members. There has been no indication he's willing to settle for anything less than restoration of his old power to prevent floor votes on bills he doesn't like.

Albert concedes he has not talked to Smith as yet about a possible negotiated truce. But if a 15-man committee is the minimum goal of the leadership, it would appear that a fight is inevitable.

Party Planned

Patrons are really starting to pile up under the tree in the water office at the West Monroe city hall, and there's some talk of a rush on them among a few folks who don't want to wait until next Wednesday.

They'll all be opened at the city hall's Christmas party that afternoon.

Everybody's wondering who drew who's name and what they've got.

Longest Flight To Date Made By Minuteman

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—America's Minuteman intercontinental missile declared combat-ready only four days ago, streaked 5,600 miles across the Atlantic Ocean Friday night on the longest flight it has ever made.

The 54-foot rocket blasted from the bottom of an 85-foot concrete-lined launching silo at 10 seconds past 10 p.m. EST. Within 30 minutes, its nose cone plunged square into a target near Ascension Island, off the West Coast of Africa.

The shot exceeded by several hundred miles the longest previous test flight of the three-stage, solid-fuel Minuteman. That was on further toward restricting the rocket's first test, a 4,600-mile Rules Committee's power to block trip on Feb. 1, 1961.

The shot Friday night was called a "roaring success," and marked the second milestone of the week in the Minuteman program.

Last Tuesday, the Air Force declared the rocket "operational," and it was revealed that 20 Minuteman rockets loaded with nuclear warheads were on station in buried launching silos at Malmstrom Air Force Base near Great Falls, Mont.

The Minuteman fired Friday night used improved, longer-range motors. The propulsion units gave the rocket a longer striking range.

POLAND MEET TO OPEN

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Poland's ruling United Workers—Communist—party announced its long-delayed 11th Central Committee session will open Monday. The official Polish press agency said it will take up "key tasks in higher education and scientific research."

Louisiana Sugar Cane Crop Hit By Frigid Blast

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The American Sugar Cane League said Friday the freezing weather may have caused as much as $4,810,000 damage to the Louisiana sugar cane crop.

Gilbert Durbin, general manager of the league said about 15 percent of the crop was in the field when temperatures ranged from 12 to 16 degrees Thursday morning.

"This was cold enough to freeze the stalks were split or cracked from top to bottom," he said. "A freeze which splits cane is the worst thing that can happen to it as far as weather is concerned. Usually such cane is not fit for processing a few days after the splitting freeze."

He said cane was being diverted to factories which have nearly completed grinding.

A spokesman for the group fighting against removal of the Agriculture Department records Conservation Service (ASCS) county Herreid, a larger, neighboring town, claimed a partial victory in the hottest battle on the northern plains since North and South Dakota quarrelled over the bones of Sitting Bull.

"You bet," said Willis Hanson, City. Instead, the Justice Department were feeling pretty good today. At least we've got a hearing, and that's more than they (the government) wanted before."

The Neville High football squad will see the New Year's Day Cotton Bowl football game between LSU and Texas if plans materialize for a committee of Neville fans promoting the bowl trip for the Monroe gridders.

A spokesman for a committee of Monroe businessmen supporting the Tigers has requested that contributions to help finance the trip be made by check payable to "Neville High School Football Team," and sent to P. O. Box 123, Monroe.

back Curtis Vicknair, and got off one play before the half ended.

Halfback Garry Pappas, who carried the bulk of Neville's ground attack and totaled for 80 yards in 21 tries, led the charge in the Tigers' first scoring drive cutting loose for 20 - yards carrying the ball to the Reserve 15 before being hauled down by Reserve's John Landry. The Tigers tallied four plays later.

The drive was aided by halfback Jimmy Howard's one yard run for a crucial first down. Howard, an all - stater, carried for 54 - yards in 13 tries to follow Pappas in rushing. The 160-pounder was a doubtful starter before the game and didn't carry a normal load due to a leg injury.

Guelzow, in addition to scoring the Tigers second touchdown, rolled off for 27 - yards on six carries. With the score tied 7-7 in the fourth period, Howard returned Reserve's kickoff from the five yard line to the 10 - yard line. Duhon, was thrown for a loss of eight yards for the night and mainly devoted his talents to aerials and ball handling.

Sixteen Neville seniors completed football careers with the Tigers last night.

Neville gained the finals with wins over Springhill and Jennings while Reserve slipped past Redemptorist and Thibodeaux to meet the Tigers.

James Willis, John Segars, Richard Wilkerson and Guelzow all made five tackles during the game with center Tom Sparks pitching in with a "White led all defensive play."

Neville picked up 22 - yards in the second quarter on the most spectacular play of the evening. Saget tossed a short pass to Gary Hart who later led to Guelzow coming around the right side. The lean halfback scooted to the middle of the field. The play turned out to be the biggest gainer of the half.

Neville punted four times in the first half while the Wildcats booted only three as the two teams' lines battled with near equal efficiency.

Neville now has two straight undefeated seasons behind them and four State AA crowns.

Several hundred Reserve fans traveled to Monroe for the game which was played in perfect crisp football weather.

Gustin And Mann Tied At Sebring
SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—Jon Gustin and Carol Mann shot a 6-under-par 66 Friday and vaulted to a tie for the halfway lead in the 72-hole, $30,000 Scotch Mixed Four-some Golf Tournament.

Gustin, who plays out of Gladwyne, Pa., and Miss Mann, of Chicago, had a 34-32 over the 6,723-yard, par-72 Harder Hall course for a 36-hole total of 137.

Mason Rudolph of Lehigh Acres, Fla., and Kathy Whitworth of Jai, N.M., the first round leaders in the alternate shot competition, fired a 33-34—67 and matched the 137 total.

On the way to the 66, Gustin and Miss Mann had seven birdies, but went over par on one hole, the 40-yard 7th. Gustin tipped into the cup from 35 feet out on the 220-yard 12th hole for one of the birdies.

Sam Snead and Shirley Englehorn of Los Angeles also shot a 67 to move into third place with Western Division title. The Lions, 141, Tied at 142 were Dave Ragan who meet the Bears at Chicago of Orlando and Mickey Wright of Sunday, would need a victory and Bobby Nichols of Midland, wind up in a tie for first place. Tex., and Gloria Armstrong of and force a division playoff at Oakland, Calif.

SIXTH STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Istrouma Slips Past Byrd 21-14 For Class AAA Crown

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Istrouma captured its sixth Louisiana triple-A prep football championship with a 21-14 triumph over Byrd Friday night.

It was the second successive championship for the Indians. The Tribe, ranked No. 1 in the final Associated Press poll, scored twice in the opening period and once again in the fourth stanza. The Indians appeared to have their sixth straight shutout wrapped up until the final 30 seconds when Byrd struck for two quick touchdowns.

End Charles Rohner grabbed an 18 yard pass from junior quarterback Larry Johnson to give Istrouma its first tally. Fullback Jim Dousay broke loose for an 81-yard scoring sprint 2 1/2 minutes later. Jimmy Scott converted and Istrouma led 14-0 at the end of the first period.

Dousay's run came on the first play from scrimmage after Byrd's Richard Carruth apparently had put the Tribe in the hole with a 50-yard quick kick.

Byrd, held to a minus one yard rushing and 11 passing in the first half, was unable to muster a scoring drive before intermission.

Istrouma, defeated once in regular season play, got its final marker with 1:20 left on a 50 yard march on 10 plays. Larry Johnson snared a pass from Byrd's Sam Nader to start the drive, which was sparked by the running of Dousay and halfback Melvin Hopper and passes of 15, 10 and 11 yards by starting quarterback Ronnie Murphy to Rohner.

Scott went over from the 1-foot stripe and then kicked the conversion. Byrd then struck with sudden swiftness as Nader hit halfback John Smith in the open at the Yellow Jacket 42 and Smith sprinted for a touchdown. The scoring play covered 74 yards. Jimmy Ryan converted.

Thirteen seconds later Nader scooped up a Johnny Yarbrough fumble at the Istrouma 46 and galloped for another TD, giving Byrd two markers in the last 30 seconds. Ryan again converted.

Nebraska-Miami Show Up Friday

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—Both Nebraska and Miami were on the scene Friday and the word definitely was go for Saturday's Gotham Bowl game at Yankee Stadium despite freezing weather, a week-long newspaper strike and financial problems.

Although some 20,000 tickets reportedly have been sold, it will be surprising if more than 10,000 turn out at the ball park for the morning game at 11 a.m., EST. The temperature is expected to be about 20 degrees at the kickoff.

Nebraska did not take off from Lincoln until James Pittenger, the Cornhuskers' ticket manager, called from New York to assure the chancellor of the university that a $35,000 check for expenses had been certified. Coach Bob Devaney and his team waited at the airport until New York banks opened and the check was certified.

Miami, guaranteed $30,000 in expenses, flew to town Thursday and worked out at the Stadium. Mayor Robert Wagner personally guaranteed the expense money demanded by the schools from executive director Bob Curran.

The game will be televised on tape and played back in a cut down 90-minute version for a national audience (ABC) at 5 p.m., EST. However, it will be seen live in Miami and on three Nebraska stations.

A Gotham Bowl spokesman said the television money and gate receipts will go to the two schools after the March of Dimes takes out its share. Originally, Miami was to have received $75,000 and Nebraska $55,000.

The game, rated an even bat-division championship, host the Dallas Cowboys.

South and a strong representative of the Big Eight, Miami finished its regular season with a 7-3 record, bowing to Louisiana State, Alabama and Northwestern. Nebraska won six in a row and wound up at 8-2, losing to Missouri and Oklahoma.

George Mira, Miami's talented All-America quarterback, rates as the glamor boy of the game with his 122 completions in 260 passing attempts for 1,572 yards and 10 touchdowns. Nick Spinelli and Bill Sparks are his favorite targets.

The Hurricanes' ground game is built around fullback Nick Ryder, who gained 621 yards this year. "Mira is the greatest passer I ever have seen," said Andy Gustafson, Miami coach. "He also can run when his passers are covered. He could be the best halfback on the team if I wanted to use him there."

Mira is a junior but Ryder and Ben Rizzo, both senior ends, said they probably will sign pro contracts after the game. Both American pro leagues and Canada are reportedly interested.

Dousay, a 170-pound junior filling in for injured senior fullback Benny Griffin, chewed out 183 yards in 20 carries for rushing honors. Hopper got 51 yards in 15 plays.

It was the ninth overall state title for Istrouma under the Brown twins — Big and Little Fuzzy. Little Fuzzy (Ellis), who is now principal, guided the Tribe to three double-A crowns before the triple-A classification was established.

Big Fuzzy (James E.) has won six titles — all in triple-A. Istrouma 14 0 0 7-21

Folley And Jones Tangle In Garden Bout

NEW YORK (UPI)—Heavyweight contender Zora Folley, seeking his 10th straight victory, again tests the heavyweight potential of Doug Jones in their nationally televised return fight Saturday night at Madison Square Garden.

Thirty-year old Folley of Chandler, Ariz., outpointed light heavyweight contender Jones of New York in a close bout at Denver, Colo., on Aug. 1.

And boxer-puncher Zora is a solid favorite at 11-5 to win again because of advantages in weight, about 197 pounds to a probable 183, and in skill. Each is a good hitter. They are scheduled for 10 rounds.

Catholic Whips Ferriday, 13-0

By HOWARD PAGE
World Sports Writer

FERRIDAY—The Catholic High Panthers of New Iberia proved their right to the number one ranking Louisiana class-A circles by blanking Ferriday's Bulldogs' 13-0, for the state championship here Friday night.

An overflow crowd, estimated at over 3,000 jammed Melz Stadium to watch the two powers battle in the state finals.

Coach Ray Blanco's Panthers, flashing a strong ground attack and a stubborn defense, pounded across touchdowns in the first and fourth quarters to climax an undefeated season with the class-A crown. Catholic High finished with a 14-0 record, while Ferriday closed out with a 11-2.

For Coach Lawrence Matulich's Bulldogs it was a disappointing end to their drive for a fifth state grid title in the past 11 years.

JETER WITH 32
Fullback Chester Gosnell, a 175-pounder, who ran with power, led Catholic's crunching ground attack as he ripped off 146 on 22 carries. He was aided on 61 yards on 13 tries. Fullback Ronald Jeter paced Ferriday with 32 yards on 12 trips.

The Panthers' rock - ribbed defense, sparked by Alan LeBlanc, 235, and Nat Poulan, 200, never fielded only twice in the first half. Let Ferriday mount a serious offensive threat.

After an early exchange of punts, the Panthers mounted their first scoring drive in the opening quarter after taking over on their own. They covered the 59 - yards to paydirt in nine plays, with Gosnell and Pratt doing most of the damage. A series of short runners carried the Panthers to the Ferriday 25, then Gosnell slammed over left guard and kicked up 16 - yards before being brought down on the nine. Pratt went the final nine - yards on the next play bursting through an opening at left tackle. Halfback Tommy Hayes failed to run the extra point, and Catholic High led 6-0 with 3:11 left in the first quarter.

That was the way it stayed until early in the fourth quarter when Gosnell scored from the six first down pass was intercepted required 11 - plays. The touchdown came on the second play of the final period. On the first play, an off side penalty against Ferriday placed the ball on the six. From there Gosnell took a period in the third period.

But Ferriday's break came too brief in a hurry when Walkers to cap a 76 - yard march that required 11 - plays. The touchdown came on the second play of the final period. On the first play, an off side penalty against Ferriday placed the ball on the six. From there Gosnell took a period in the third period.

The Green Bay Packers are prohibitive favorites to beat the weak Los Angeles Rams Sunday and thus qualify to meet the New York Giants in the National Football League's championship play-off for the second straight year.

Four teams now remain in contention for the championship of the second annual News-Star—World Invitational cage tournament which ends tonight.

Tonight's consolation contest, which will put today's semi-final losers against each other, is slated to begin at 7:00.

The championship game of the tournament will begin at 8:15 tonight after which trophies will be awarded and selections of the all-tournament team and most valuable player of the meet will be announced.

In the first tilt of Friday's four-game round, Epps, led by its hard-working defense, toppled West Monroe, 54-38.

This game was followed by the LaSalle-Oak Grove battle which pitted speed against rebounding strength. In this case strength on the boards prevailed as LaSalle and its 6-5 workhorse, Billy Masters, claimed a 55-47 triumph.

Action last night saw both local teams winning, one by a large margin and the other in a cliff-hanger which went to the wire.

Neville took the lopsided victory, 61-32, over Eros although it took a tremendous third quarter to put down the Panthers.

Ouachita's, 36-33, victory over Bastrop in Friday's finale was the top duel of the day and was a crowd-pleaser all the way. The Lions led by seven going into the last quarter but had to hang on for dear life before getting its hard-earned win.

EPPS-WEST MONROE

The hustling Panthers of Epps once again used an air-tight defense to help rack up its second tourney victory. Epps held West Monroe to 13 points the last half and scored 23 itself on the way to its, 54-38, win.

The first half was close all the way with the score being tied, 14-14, after the initial quarter. In the second period the lead changed hands several times before Louie Cleveland popped in a jumper with 46 seconds remaining to give the Panthers a 26-25, lead which they carried to the dressing room at halftime.

The third and fourth quarters were marred by mistakes, with many of West Monroe's due to camp-like defensive play by Epps.

With 1:49 remaining in the third, Cleveland, who was the Panthers' top scorer with 21 points, fired in another jumper shot to put Epps out front, 37-28. The nine point lead was the biggest of the game up to that point.

Dickie Jackson got in for a layup for the Rebels with only 36 seconds left and Epps led, 37-30, going in the final period. There was no stopping the Panthers in the final period.

Cleveland and Paul Mercer, a 5-10 guard, led the surge which finally built up a 16-point lead by the end of the contest.

Darrell Griggs was the top point-maker for West Monroe with 16 tallies. He hit on six fielders and four free tosses for his total. Jackson added eight to take second place in the scoring department for West Monroe.

Mercer chipped in 12 points.

Northeast took the lead quickly early in the second but lost it again several times as the clubs wrestled for command.

Besides Salley and Walker, Gamble and Milton Linder hit in double figures for the Tribe, now 6-3 for the year. Gamble got 15 points and Linder 12.

Smith led Delta, now 3-1, with 17 points. Bill Mauney got 16 and Charles Preston and Fugate had 15 apiece. Preston and Smith got 15 rebounds each.

Northeast had the team lead in rebounds, 65-55.

The contest was bitterly fought throughout and two players had an altercation at the end, bringing fans streaming onto the court, but order quickly prevailed and the floor was cleared.

The Indians will play East Texas Baptist here Monday night in the final contest of their four-game home stand.

LaSALLE-OAK GROVE
Strength on the boards paced LaSalle to its 55-47, win over Oak Grove's scrapping Tigers.

LaSalle's six-foot-five Billy Masters and forward Mike Baker controlled the backboards to spark LaSalle's victory. Masters also fired in 17 points to take top scoring honors for the game.

The lead changed hands seven times in the opening quarter before LaSalle finally took a 14-10 lead on Masters' two free tosses

Early in the second quarter it looked as if LaSalle would run away with game when it built and Mickey Turner with 13 led up an 18-10 lead. But Oak Grove's offensive work put on its best showing of the game to come back and score 12 on straight points and take a 22-18 lead. Turner and Gamble sparked the Oak Grove surge, both scoring four points.

The Olla crew finally came alive then and by halftime had tied Oak Grove, 24-24.

A cold third quarter proved to be the downfall of Oak Grove. They managed only seven points while LaSalle, around the shooting of Masters, Baker and Cruse, scored 14 to take a seven point lead, 38-31.

Oak Grove still would not quit though as they narrowed the margin to three points, 38-35, on Gamble's two gratis tosses.

Moody then came up with what may have been one of the biggest of the game then, driving in for a layup and adding a free shot when he was fouled on the play. This gave LaSalle a six point lead, 41-35, and Oak Grove could not whittle it down from here on in.

Oak Grove's Kent Davis and Mickey Broadway both did a fine job on the boards for the losers in an effort to half the height advantage which Masters gave his team.

Neville's surging Tigers used a blistering third quarter to sprint away from Eros and take another step toward their second straight News-Star—World cage tourney title.

After the two teams battled on near even terms the first half, Neville broke loose in the third quarter and scored 19 points while limiting Eros to only five.

In the third it was forward Randy Fallin who sparked the rally with able assistance from Joe Canal.

Fallin controlled the rebounds superbly, picked off bad passes and loose balls, and scored five points during the quarter.

Canal scored six points during the period and quarterbacked the Neville attack with authority.

The fourth quarter saw the Tigers continue to roll, mounting their 44-24 third quarter lead to 29 points at the final whistle.

Bill Davis and John Garrett both played a big part in the fourth quarter surge and several substitutes also got in on the scoring.

In the first quarter Eros stayed in the game on the shooting of Chum Austin while Neville relied heavily on the shooting and rebound of Malcolm Smith, who scored 10 points during the game.

Canal finished the night with 16 points for the winning Bengals and Fallin chipped in 11 more. For Eros no one managed to score in double figures. Bobby Harper and Austin each netted eight for the losers and Lemuel Bough scored six.

OUACHITA-BASTROP
In what was definitely the most exciting contest of Friday's tourney action, Ouachita kept its hopes alive by edging Bastrop in a contest that went down to the final seconds.

Although Ouachita got a lead early in the first period and kept it the whole game, the two teams were never more than seven points apart and with 18 seconds remaining the gap had been closed to two points, 35-32.

With 1:02 left Ouachita led 35-29 but Bastrop would not yield and after James Blackwell and Ricky Head connected on two-

Clinton moved in front in the first period, picking up a touchdown on a 6-yard pass from quarterback Amle DeGeneres to half-back Charles Record.

St. Edmund scored late in the second period on a 19-yard pass from quarterback Jebby Montz to half-back Mike Manuel. Steve McLain's kick for the conversion was wide.

St. Edmund scored in the third period, going 35 yards in eight plays. Manuel tallied on a one-yard plunge but again McLain's kick failed.

pointers. Ouachita's lead had dwindled to two points.

The Rams got one last chance when they tied the ball with nine seconds remaining, forcing a jump-ball situation.

But Ouachita controlled the tip and in a desperation attempt for the ball Bastrop fouled Darryl Barnes with four seconds remaining.

The hustling Lion forward calmly stepped to the line and sank the first shot of a one-and-one play. He missed the second shot, but Ouachita had a three-point lead and Bastrop could not bring the ball down court and score before the time ran out.

Actually it was only fitting that Barnes was the boy who sank the final point which assured the Lions a victory. For it was he who had nearly single-handedly given Ouachita an edge in the rebounding department the whole first half.

It was also Barnes who scored eight points during the initial half, most of them in crucial spots, to keep the Lions moving.

Barnes' 10-point total for the game was high for Ouachita, but it was second to Bastrop's fine guard Robert Malson.

Malson fired in 15 tallies during the game and was a demon to Ouachita on defense all night.

Late in third quarter he hit a long set to cut Ouachita's lead to 32-27, and in the fourth it was he who popped in a fielder with 48 seconds left to narrow Bastrop's deficit to 35-31.

CLINTON EDGES ST. EDMUND BY 14-12 FOR TITLE
CLINTON, La. (AP)—Clinton, beaten in the state finals a year ago, made amends Friday night with a 14-12 victory over St. Edmund for the state class B championship.

Clinton was the No. 1 team in the final Associated Press rankings.

Clinton had to come from behind late in the fourth period with the winning touchdown coming on Lee Haynes' 9-yard run with 4:35 left in the game.

Halfback Stewart Chaney proved the difference in the game as he converted after both touchdowns to give Clinton the victory.

Clinton moved in front in the first period, picking up a touchdown on a 6-yard pass from quarterback Amle DeGeneres to half-back Charles Record.

St. Edmund scored late in the second period on a 19-yard pass from quarterback Jebby Montz to half-back Mike Manuel. Steve McLain's kick for the conversion was wide.

St. Edmund scored in the third period, going 35 yards in eight plays. Manuel tallied on a one-yard plunge but again McLain's kick failed.

Tribe Overtime Tamer Of Delta

Jerry Salley, Robert Cook and Jimmy Walker powered Northeast State to a tinging 78-73 overtime decision over previously unbeaten Delta State here Friday night.

Northeast, always a tiger in its den, scored 16 points in the overtime period to deal the Statesmen their first loss after three wins. The teams went into the overtime deadlocked at 68-68.

extra period. Cook hit his personal high with 22 rebounds, 17 of them in the second half, while Walker got 20 caroms. Walker was Northeast's No. 2 scorer with 17 points before fouling out with 7:22 left in the second half.

Sub Paul Fugate gave Delta a brief one-point lead to start the overtime on a charity bucket but Salley hit a 20-foot bomb to give Northeast the lead, 70-69, with 4:13 left.

Beavers Prep For Villanova

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Oregon State meets Villanova in the fourth annual Liberty Bowl football game here Saturday and the question appears to be not who will win, but rather, who will survive in the arctic weather. The forecast is for a high in the upper 20s.

Starting time is 1:10 p.m., EST. The game will be televised nationally by NBC with a blackout in a 90-mile radius of Philadelphia.

Whereas the conversation has been about the offensive prowess of State's All-America quarterback, Terry Baker, vs. Villanova's stingy defense, the elements have taken over. Philadelphia Stadium, scene of the game is the coldest spot in Philadelphia on the hottest day of the year.

The only consolation, if such it is, is the weatherman's promise it won't snow. The team and the crowd can freeze on a clear day if the forecast is accurate. Promoter Bud Dudley estimates he'll have 25,000 in the stadium built for 100,000. This would include hardy youngsters admitted at $1 a head, if they can inveigle an adult from the home fires.

Sizing the teams at a glance, Oregon State posted an 8-2 record against tougher opposition than that faced by Villanova en route to a 7-2 season. The Beavers from the West Coast feature the most bailey-hooded player of the year in Baker, a super passer, runner and field general drafted No. 1 by the National Football League. Villanova is a ball control team with hard runners such as Larry Glueck, Lou Rittino and Billy Joe, and two good passers in southpaw Richie Richman and Ted Aceto. Richman is tough on the pass-run option.

Baker's credentials include 112 pass completions on 202 attempts for 1,738 yards, 15 touchdowns, and only 5 interceptions. Additionally he has run for 538 yards and scored 58 points on 9 TDs and a pair of two point conversions. His chief passing target is 6-foot-4 Vern Burke, whose 69 catches for 1,007 yards set two NCAA records.

The Beavers, coached by Tommy Prothro, haven't been much on defense, allowing an average 277 yards a game. Their line averages 195 pounds and will be outweighed 15 to 20 pounds a man by the heftier Villanovans. Prothro depends on speed and mobility in his forward wall, led by capt. George Gnos, a 200-pound guard.

Villanova has no star of the Baker magnitude. Coach Alex Bell, whose team won over Wichita in last year's Sun Bowl, goes with a defense that has allowed an average of 189 yards a game. His best runner is Glueck, drafted by the Chicago Bears. This 190-pound senior, however, has been sidelined since Nov. 10 with a high injury. He'll play Saturday, but Bell isn't sure how much or how effectively.

Oregon State, winner of its last six games, rates a two touchdown favorite.

2 GSC Stars On Williamson Team

Louisiana Tech's Mickey Slaughter and Billy Foster of Northeast State have been named to the Williamson mid-bracket All-American team. They are the only Gulf States Conference players listed on any of the first three teams.

Slaughter, Tech's sensational senior quarterback, was named to the second team, while Foster, a bruising hardnosed guard on this year's Indian edition, was a third unit choice.

Both have inked professional contracts. "The Mick," who was the first signal caller drafted by the American Football League, signed with the Denver Broncos, while the 230-pound Foster inked with the Houston Oilers.

Another Northeast player, tackle Ross Nolan, was on Williamson's honorable mention list. Nolan is a 237-pound senior from Monroe who was recently signed by the Denver Broncos of the AFL.

Tech also has an honorable mention player, end Jerry Griffin of Springhill. Griffin, a first team All-GSC selection, was drafted and signed by the Houston Oilers.

Foster, a Tallulah High graduate, was a second team All-Gulf States Conference choice this fall and will play in the All-American Bowl in Tucson, Ariz.

Slaughter was named to the All-GSC first team, the third straight year he made the club. He was also the only league player to average over 100 yards per game and completed .573 percent of his passes, his third straight year to average over .500.

IN RUSTON

Oklahoma Five Next Tech Test

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech's surprising basketballers get another stern test here Saturday night when they face rugged Southeastern Oklahoma State in a battle of once-beaters.

The Oklahoma Sooners won their first four and then dropped and over time tilt to Arkansas State at Jonesboro 62-60, blowing a 20-point first half lead. Then Thursday night the Oklahoma Sooners humiliated the same team 70-47.

Southeast Coach Bloomer Sullivan lost four starters off last year's club, but he still has 6-7 Connie McGuire, considered one of the finest cagers in the country, and five other lettermen. Sullivan, one of the winningest coaches in the nation, will choose his other four starters from 6-2 Harold McDaniel, 5-7 Cecil Williamson, 6-2 Elvin Sweeten, 6-4 Bill Medley, and 6-2 Charles McClelland.

Coach Cecil Crowley's Tech outfit is indicating it may create quite a stir in Gulf States Conference circles, although figured for a second division finish.

After an opening 80-61 loss to top-ranked Mississippi State, Tech has downed Ole Miss 81-77 and Arkansas Tech 78-74. Jerry Hood, 6-4 Pivot, has been providing much of the punch, though a balanced attack has been the Tech trademark so far.

Hood pumped in 25 points in his best collegiate showing against Arkansas Tech. Ron McNabb and Ray Penny had 13 each. David Hruska 12 and Joe Abendroth 10.

Tech techs to the road next week, facing Ole Miss in Oxford. Then, the Techsters participate in the Gulf South Classic in Shreveport Dec. 26 - 29.

Patriots Hope Oilers Falter In Titan Game

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

The Boston Patriots will pass a few anxious hours on the West Coast Saturday afternoon watching the televised game between the New York Titans and the Houston Oilers at New York.

If the Oilers win, they will clinch their third straight Eastern Division title in the American Football League and earn the right to play the Dallas Texans in Houston, Dec. 23, in an all-Texas championship playoff.

But if the Oilers should stumble against the Titans, the Patriots would be presented with a golden opportunity to win the Eastern title simply by defeating the winless Oakland Raiders Sunday afternoon.

By BOB MYERS

LONG BEACH, Calif. — Husky Jim Taylor is a very discreet young man except when he is bulging his way through a horde of tacklers in the National Football League.

So when the fullback of the defending champion Green Bay Packers was advised he had been voted player of the year in the NFL in the annual Associated Press poll, he said, in his soft Southern drawl:

"This makes me feel real great. I am honored — very much."

"But credit should go to my team which made this possible. They're great. I couldn't operate without them. No one knows this better than I do."

The former Louisiana State University Tiger, who still lives in the off-season at Baton Rouge, was awarded the distinction by vote of football writers and broadcasters who cover the league in the 14 cities.

Taylor is here with the Packers, awaiting their final game of the regular season with the Rams in Los Angeles Sunday.

Taylor, at 215 relatively small, but powerfully potent, already has tied the league record of 18 for the most touchdowns scored in one season. He figures to break the mark against the Rams.

All of the Taylor touchdowns were scored on the ground. And most often Taylor simply bulldozed over or through tacklers, seldom around.

But he confided that this season he has re-adjusted and is not opposed to skirting an opponent instead of belting him head-on.

Green Bay fans have long claimed Taylor merited the honor just received and deplored the fact that for the past few years fullback Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns got most of the headlines.

This year Taylor has gained 1,318 yards in 249 carries and Brown is well down the line with 961.

Taylor received 19 first place votes and won rather decisively from his nearest rival, Y.A. Tittle, quarterback of the New York Giants, who had 13.

Others who received ballots were Bobby Mitchell, halfback with the Washington Redskins, four votes; Roger Brown, defensive tackle of the Detroit Lions, two, and Detroit linebacker Joe Schmidt and Lou Michaels, place kicking specialist and defensive end for the Pittsburgh Steelers, one each.

Tittle has had a great year. He threw seven touchdown passes, tying the league record, in wrecking the Redskins and their winning streak in mid-season.

If the final games come out as expected with Green Bay winning over the Rams to nail down the Western Division crown, it will be Taylor and Tittle, the one-two players of the year, in action. The Giants have already clinched the Eastern title.

Pre-Christmas Party Hosted In Noe Home

The first of a series of pre-Christmas parties was hosted on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. James A. Noe in her home on Fairview.

A red carpet had been rolled out at the entrance to welcome guests as they arrived, while a life-size Santa waved and bowed. The front door was festive with a red and gold wreath, and the old world English lanterns were decorated with sprays of greenery tied with red bows.

The Christmas season was evidenced in every room throughout the lovely Williamsburg home. Holly sprayed with gold and tied with red bows filled the ornate container of English silver, which centered the dining table. The serving table featured a silver candelabra holding tall slender red tapers, while on the buffet was an arrangement of pine bows placed in a low crystal bowl.

The guests gathered in the garden room before the fireplace and other rooms of the home in conversational groups.

Those serving were Mrs. Gladys Parrish, Mrs. J. Hunter Thatcher, Mrs. Jack Ratliff, Mrs. W. A. Walker, Mrs. Ralph King, and Mrs. Joe Durrett.

An impressive candlelight ceremony by the National Honor Society took place in the Tallulah High School auditorium when eleven new members were initiated into the society. They were Bobby Arneson, Sandra Wiggins and Joe Scouria of the senior class, and Elizabeth Ann Smith, Lilian Loe, Linda Harvey, Russell Williams, Allen Williams, Buddy Caldwell and Len Vanderhoogt, of the junior class. D. Herr of Sterlington, delegate to State, and Mrs. Pulley, state alternate. Officers will be installed at the March meeting. The business session closed at 12 p.m. with the benediction by Mrs. Ollie D. Bolls, chaplain. Out of state members attending were Mrs. Ollie D. Bolls of Vicksburg, Miss., and her daughter, Mrs. Joseph F. McCarthy, of Fort Collins, Colo. and one guest, Miss Donna Gail Pulley, of Northeast La. State College in Monroe, La.

They each made a talk setting forth the importance of the emblem, the requirements and significance of membership in the society. In addition to the necessary scholastic average of B, members are chosen for qualities of leadership, service and character. It was pointed out that only 15 per cent of the senior class and 16 per cent of the junior class are eligible for membership and final decision is made by six members of the school faculty. Speaking on the responsibilities and honor of membership were other members, Nancy Neumann, Diane Webb and Janet Sturdivant.

As the initiated lighted their candles, they pledged loyalty and obedience to the high ideals of the organization. At the conclusion of the ceremony an address was given by the Rev. Oster R. Daniels.

U.S. Industry Output Steady At High Level

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial production in November held steady at the near-record October level of 119.5 per cent of the 1957-59 average, the Federal Reserve Board reported Friday. Automobile production still was running far ahead of the rest of the index of factory, utility, and mining activity. New car assemblies were at a rate 141 per cent of the 1957-59 level.

Production of other consumer durables, including household appliances, was stable at about the rate which has prevailed since August, down 4 per cent from the production level in May and June. The board's national summary of business conditions said: "Industrial production and non agricultural employment in November remained at the levels of the summer and early autumn, while personal income and retail sales rose further."

HINTS FROM Heloise

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE

I recently read a column of yours that I thought was fantastic. I concerned kerosene. My wife bought the kerosene so we could try the hint and now we have forgotten what the hint was!

What was the kerosene to be used for?

CHARLES TRACY

DEAR CHARLES

Many, many things! After the film is off the tile walls (not the floor) of your shower, ever tried dipping a wash cloth in kerosene, wringing it out and wiping the walls?

This slight coating will help prevent accumulation of more soap film!

Ever tried dipping a soap filled steel wool pad in straight kerosene and cleaning aluminum pots and pans?

Some day we will do a whole column on uses of vinegar and another one on kerosene. Send ideas to Heloise, in care of this paper and we will test them, print the best and help others. Letters do not have to be signed to appear in this column.

Love,

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE

My daughter had an expensive pleated skirt that was four inches too long.

Instead of ripping out the hem and relacing it — which would have been entirely too much trouble — I ripped the waist band off, zipper next, then the side seam where the zipper was removed.

I spread the skirt out on a table and pinned the pleats in place. I measured four inches from the top (amount I wanted shortened) with the pencil and I made a dot every few pleats. I cut this off.

I used hasting stitches across the top of the skirt to hold the pleats in place.

Measure for the zipper and sew side seam, put the zipper back in, then the waist band. The skirt is finished.

JEWEL MCNEIL

DEAR JEWEL

Thanks for the wonderful suggestion. However, here is the way I shortened my daughter's skirt yards 35 - inch after adapting it to your idea.

Before I ripped the waistband off, I took my ruler and measured down three inches from the top of the waist band and made dots there. I then put the skirt on my sewing machine before ripping it apart and sewed a double row of large stitching across all of these dots.

It was then easier to take the scissors and cut off the top of the skirt (above the row of stitches) — including the waist band. Then rip band apart.

When replacing the band, it completely covered the two little rows of stitching and gave it body.

Cuban Crisis Top 1962 News Event

NEW YORK (UPI)—The crisis over Soviet missiles in Cuba was rated No. 1 Saturday in the list of "ten biggest news stories of 1962" compiled by United Press International.

The Cuban crisis was the overwhelming choice for first place in the annual poll of editors representing hundreds of UPI subscribers in the United States and Canada.

Contesting closely for second place were Lt. Col. John H. Glenn's first earth-orbiting flight by the United States and the troop-enforced enrollment of a Negro at the University of Mississippi. The Glenn flight took second, "Ole Miss" third.

Here is the 1962 list:

1. Cuban Soviet-missile crisis
2. Glenn space flight
3. "Ole Miss" desegregation
4. Chinese Reds drive into India
5. Kennedy forces steel price cutback
6. Stock market's $20.8-billion break May 28
7. Thaldomide deformed babies
8. Soviet twin-astronaut feat.
9. Billie Sol Estes scandal
10. Death of Marilyn Monroe

Many editors remarked on their ballots that 1962 seemed the newest year since World War II ended. Some said that after choosing the top three stories this year, selection of the others in order of precedence was of such difficulty that, as one put it, "they might as well be drawn out of a hat."

Negotiations Resuming In N. Y. Strike

NEW YORK (UPI)—Federal mediators announced Friday they will resume negotiations Tuesday in another effort to settle the seven-day old strike that has idled nine metropolitan newspapers and made it difficult for millions of New Yorkers to find out what is going on in the world.

William E. Simkin, director of the federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said in Washington that Stephen I. Schlossberg, his special assistant, will head the team of federal mediators.

Simkin came to New York earlier this week with Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to talk with the New York Publishers Association and the leader of the striking printers.

The announcement followed an appeal by one of the publishers for a 60-day truce during which negotiations for a new contract could be carried out.

J. Kingsbury-Smith, publisher of the New York Journal-American, proposed that President Kennedy, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller or Mayor Robert F. Wagner, or all three, issue an appeal for workers to go back to work during the truce.

"I am frankly appalled at the apparent attitude of the federal mediators that nothing can be done to bring about a quick settlement of this strike," the publisher said.

The loss of 5.7 million papers published each day by the nine papers is gradually taking a heavy economic toll.

Each day, an estimated $500,000 is being lost by the 20,000 employees out of work. The papers are losing an estimated $1.3 million in advertising.

The judge ruled on a request by Dist. Atty. James Garrison, who is seeking court orders padlocking five French Quarter night spots.

The judge ruled after two days of testimony, in which two men who said they acted as undercover agents told of lewd acts committed by dancers seated at their table and said they received offers of prostitution.

The actual closing of the club remained in question. It may be allowed to remain open pending an appeal, or if closed down, it may be allowed to re-open under bond.

Judge Orders Bourbon Street Club Closing

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—State Civil Dist. Court Judge Fred J. Cassidy Friday ordered the closing of a Bourbon Street night club, Jazz, Ltd., on grounds that it is a public nuisance.

He accepted testimony of offers of prostitution made in the club, and said the offers constituted prostitution.

7 Major Crusades Slated By Graham

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Billy Graham will conduct major evangelistic crusades in seven countries during the coming year.

Announcing the most intensive schedule of his career, Graham said this week that he believes Christian evangelism can achieve a "significant breakthrough" in many parts of the world during the next few years—if enough resources are devoted to the task.

During 1963, he will conduct "crusades for Christ" in the Philippines, Hong Kong, Formosa, Japan, France, Germany and southern California.

Graham brushed aside speculation that he is tiring of mass evangelism after 12 years of preaching on every continent.

"I am convinced," he said, "that crusade evangelism was never more relevant to human need than today."

Harassment of Jews in the Soviet Union was sharply protested this week in a cable sent to Premier Nikita Khrushchev over the signatures of 46 prominent U.S. religious leaders of all three faiths.

Protestant and Catholic clergymen joined leaders of the American Jewish Committee in urging Khrushchev to renounce anti-Semitic policies. They noted that Russia's 3 million Jews have been subjected to restrictions of worship and association which are even worse than the "blanket restraints" imposed on other religious bodies.

The U.S. Census Bureau is considering resumption of its surveys of membership in American religious bodies.

No census of religious affiliations has been made since 1936, and the membership statistics

Bank Burglary Suspect Waives

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—George R. Winborne, 36, of Winnsboro, La., waived extradition Friday to Tyler, Tex., to face charges in the burglary of the state bank of Bloomberg, Tex., last March 16.

Winborne and Ivie Lee Umphries, 32, of Bossier City, La., were arrested in Hot Springs Dec. 5 after cashing six travelers checks. Police found numerous other such checks in their possession.

Umphries waived extradition in a hearing last week.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You frequently say in your column that it's poor manners to drop in on people unexpectedly. Does this go for clergymen, too?

My little girl is only four weeks old. The house is not as tidy as I would like it to be. At the moment we are in the midst of redecorating. Frankly, I am not set up for visitors at this time.

Last evening just as we were finishing supper the clergyman and his wife came to call. I was wearing an old housedress and my hair was up in rollers. Because of the redecorating I had to take them into the kitchen, which was a mess. I was painfully embarrassed and attempted to conceal my discomfort but I don't think I succeeded.

The pastor said, "Please don't feel that we are guests. We came to wish you well, not to inspect your home." I still felt ill at ease. Am I juvenile because I can't be relaxed under such circumstances? — STILL SHAKING

DEAR STILL: Telling someone not to be uncomfortable does not automatically put a person at ease. No one, not even a clergyman, should drop in without first phoning to ask if it is convenient.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My 16-year-old granddaughter is very unhappy at home. Her father is unable to provide her with the little luxuries which can help a young girl socially. Their home is not the kind that would make a good impression on a young man of refined upbringing.

Geraldine has asked her parents for permission to live with me. I am a lonely widow and it would give me great pleasure to have this child in my home.

The poor girl must scrub floors, do dishes and even iron clothes. With me, Geraldine would have more time to devote to her studies. I have servants who do the cooking and housework.

My son and his wife refuse to let Geraldine live with me. Don't

Jackson Warns NAACP Against Agitation Acts

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People answered an official warning against discrimination in downtown Jackson stores.

Medgar Evers, NAACP field secretary for Mississippi, said no dates have been set but picketing plans were mapped for further demonstrations.

Mayor Allen Thompson said after a picketing demonstration some "1,000 police officers" would be used "if necessary to maintain law and order."

The NAACP sponsored a picket line—which lasted five minutes—in downtown Jackson Wednesday against discrimination in hiring and service to the consumer.

Six persons were arrested quickly after they set up the picket line and were charged with blocking public sidewalks. They were released later in the day on $500 bond each.

Evers said "the merchants have refused to sit down and talk with us."

Evers said the first amendment "encompassed our right to peacefully assemble and protest, which we term to include picketing."

Thompson said "we are not going to put up with this. We are not going to have out city torn apart with agitators who are not interested in the Negroes' welfare but are only determined to cause trouble and friction among the races in Jackson."

The mayor said the city legal department was studying the possibility of suing agitators. He noted the picketers arrested were not native Mississippians.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

Ulysses S. Grant started out in the late fall of 1862 on his first venture to capture Vicksburg, Miss., one of two strong points the Confederates still held on the Mississippi River. He failed. With about 30,000 Union troops, Maj. Gen. Grant left Jackson, Tenn., 70 miles northeast of Memphis, in early November, following the Mississippi Central railroad south.

By Dec. 26 Grant had reached Oxford, Miss., 45 miles deep in the state, with his main forces. His advance forces were well south.

On the way down he had established a base of supplies at Holly Springs, Miss., about half way along the railroad.

It was on Dec. 26 that disaster struck Grant in the form of Maj. Gen. Earl Van Dorn and his 3,500 Confederate cavalrymen.

First news that all might not be well at Holly Springs reached Grant at Oxford early in the morning of Dec. 29 from Col. Robert C. Murphy of the Eighth Wisconsin commanding at the supply base, which was 30 miles away.

A contraband (escaped slave) had told him, he reported to Grant, that Van Dorn was only 14 miles away and riding hard.

"My force is only a handful," Murphy ended his report.

Grant had little reason to put any faith in Murphy, who had failed to remove or destroy supplies at Iuka, Miss., the previous summer. Murphy was due to be fired then but Grant saved him. "Inexperienced," Grant concluded.

Murphy had several scattered regiments of infantry at his disposal. Several companies of cavalry were camped in Holly Springs itself as well as six companies of infantry. All told, Murphy had 1,500 men. But the infantry camp was not notified of the danger, nor was the cavalry, bivouacked at the fair grounds.

Dan Dorn's troopers hit the town hall - for - leather and soon captured the infantry camp. The cavalry put up a fight and cut its way out of town.

The Confederate cavalry rounded up about 1,000 prisoners, who were paroled, and then set fire to the great warehouses full of supplies, first taking all they could carry.

Supplies - valued at $400,000 by Grant and $1,500,000 by Van Dorn - went up in smoke.

"May fate is most mortifying," Murphy wrote that evening. "I have wished a hundred times to-day that I had been killed. I have done all in my power - in truth my force was inadequate."

Maj. John J. Mudd of the cavalry which fought its way out, disagreed.

"I cannot doubt but that the place could have been successfully defended by even half the forces here had suitable precautions been taken and the infantry been concentrated, their officers in camp with them and prepared to fight."

Grant called the surrender "most reprehensible."

Capture of Holly Springs taught Grant a lesson he would use later - an anecdote which Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman would perfect - living off the country.

After sending cavalry after Van Dorn, "my next order," Grant wrote, "was to dispatch all the wagons we had, under proper escort, to collect and bring in all supplies for forage and food from a region of fifteen miles east and west of the road from our front back to Grant Junction, leaving two months supplies for the families of those whose stores were taken."

"I was amazed at the quantity of supplies the country afforded. It showed we could have subsisted off the country for two months instead of two weeks without going beyond the limits designated. . . . Our loss of supplies was great at Holly Springs, but it was more than compensated for by those taken from the country."

"The news of the capture of Holly Springs and the destruction of our supplies caused much rejoicing among the people remaining at Oxford. They came with broad smiles on their faces, indicated intense joy, to ask what

Jury Indicts

Three Officers For Burglaries

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The Cuyahoga County grand jury Friday indicted three policemen on burglary and larceny charges—but freed two others who had been accused.

William Marlowe, 40, who has been described as the ringleader in the police scandal which broke earlier this month, was indicted on 13 counts.

Raymond Olie, 28, was named on six counts, and Henry Wankowski, also 28, was named on four counts.

Joe Kish, 35, and Carl Krist, 41, both of whom had been charged by the police prosecutor a week ago, were cleared by the grand jury, which returned no-bills in their cases.

Marlowe, an 11-year police veteran who has seven children, was arrested Dec. 3 when he left a lumber firm. With $67 in marked money placed in a company safe by fellow police officers, Marlowe implicated 10 other policemen in his platoon, but after an investigation the department found only five persons were involved. Now two of those have been cleared.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

PAYING THE PIPER

FRANCISCO GOYA, the great Spanish painter, lived two lives. He was bold and boisterous as a youth; following one of his escapades, he was found with a knife in his back. But his talent was so great in time he became a court painter where he had access to the lighter side of "Spanish town and country life in which all the ladies were young and comely and the men handsome and well turned out."

According to Terence Cawthorne, Goya became a favorite of the heir to the throne and his wife; he was taken up by society in general and a few of the duchesses in particular. Reading between the lines, we assume that this aspect of his life was all work and all play, which is not easy to do, despite a strong constitution.

In 1793, at the age of 47, Goya was attacked by a mysterious illness which started rumors about his wild life. He became dizzy, deaf, and partially blind. Overexposure and overexertion were blamed because the illness followed an attempt to mend the axle of a coach. He was plagued by bouts of dizziness and head noises for some time. His sight improved eventually but he remained totally deaf for the remaining 35 years of his life.

During this second period of his life, the color and character of his imaginative paintings changed entirely. Dr. Cawthorne says the change was from "gay to macabre, from colorful to somber, and from pleasant dream to ghastly nightmare."

Some believed the illness changed his brain. Others, that his actions represented a rebellion against being stone deaf. We will never know except that Goya's behavior during the first part of his life suggests considerable emotional immaturity. This background becomes a real handicap when the chips are down and the bubble of a gay and carefree life bursts.

It sometimes is difficult for the average man to understand how a person can be so talented in one field yet make a complete mess of his private life. Creativity is one side of a genius; the ability to control himself and his thoughts is another. This may explain why many of our most valued and beautiful paintings, stories, musical compositions, and other artistic endeavors were created by first class scoundrels.

STIES ARE INFECTIONS

Parakeets cannot be blamed for sties. These lesions usually stem from a staphylococcal infection of one of the glands in the eyelid. There may be an associated irritation of the lids or refractive errors may need correction. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on sties.

Yes, but the cause may not be serious. A temporary muscle spasm or an occasional headache is nothing to worry about.

Borneo Sultan Believes Most Subjects Loyal

BRUNEI TOWN, Brunei (UPI)—Sultan Sir Omar Ali Saifuddin of this British protectorate in northwest Borneo said Friday he believes most of the 85,000 Malay and Chinese residents of Brunei remain loyal to him and Britain despite a short-lived revolt.

The Sultan, looking confident but somewhat strained, received newsmen Friday in his first public appearance since the revolt but said it was over.

British troops supported by tribesmen were reported mopping up the last rebel pockets in the jungles. Rebel forces were said to be as few as 300 men, but British authorities expressed fear they might be able to carry out a Malay-type guerrilla war.

The Sultan said leaflets were dropped in outlying areas asking the remaining rebels to surrender.

Sir Omar doubted the abortive revolt had obstructed talks between Brunei and Britain on a proposed greater Malaysia which would link Malay, Singapore and the British colonies and protectorate of Borneo into a federation within the commonwealth.

The leader of the revolt, Sheikh A.M. Azahari, bitterly opposes the federation and has asked a plebiscite in Brunei. Official reports said his rebel forces had been trained in the Indonesian areas of Borneo.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Solon Raps Freeman For Cotton Mess

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has made "an inconceivable mess" of the cotton program, Rep. Ralph E. Beeman, R-Neb., said Friday.

"In addition to seriously disrupting government programs on dairy products, soybeans and feed grains," Beeman said, "Secretary Freeman has built a classic monument to the failure of government price-fixing and control of the cotton industry."

Beeman, a member of a House agriculture subcommittee which is holding hearings on cotton problems, said in a statement that Freeman's action has produced these undesirable results:

- Cotton farmers face a sharp drop in income due to an announced cut of about 2 million acres in 1963 allotments.
- The domestic textile industry suffers from inequitable foreign competition which can buy American-grown cotton for 8½ cents a pound less than American firms can buy it.
- The American taxpayer is paying a quarter of a billion dollars a year to subsidize cotton exports. Large numbers of textile workers have lost their jobs in the past few years. Cotton has lost significant markets to synthetic fibers.
- The government-owned surplus of cotton has increased from 13 million bales a year ago to 47 million bales.
- "It is certainly ironic," Beeman said, "that Mr. Freeman just a few months ago was holding up the cotton program as a 'successful' example of supply management for Midwestern feed grain and livestock farmers to follow. The time has come for Congress to take some concrete steps toward making some sense out of this maimed mess."

U. N. Extension Asked On Bonds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General U. Thant asked the General Assembly Friday to extend until next June 30 the date for marketing U.N. bonds in the hope the entire $200-million issue may be sold.

He noted that when all current pledges to buy are fulfilled the total of purchases will reach $146,756,194, and that additional purchases of $25 million are expected in the next few weeks.

Actual sales to date total $103,775,140.

The present deadline for sale of bonds is Dec. 31. Thant told the assembly in a report on the bond issue that if a concerted effort is made during the first six months of 1963 the $200-million goal may be attained.
